OPEN AIR SCHOOLS.

Have Proved a Success in South Manchester. "What South Manchester is doing for "What South Manchester is doing for the health of her Children was the subject of a recent lecture given at Middletown High school hall under the auspices of the Board of Education and the Social Service league by F. A. Ver-planck, superintendent of schools in South Manchester The Open-air school was started in South Manches-ter in January, 1911. The schools ben-efit children whose vitality is low, and this city, Frederick Hussey and Wil-liam Leonard of Portland, Harold whose anaemic condition makes them Plimpton of Newton, Mass. Louis susceptible to tuberculosis. The children are kept at the school all day and are given a nourishing dinner and a good out-of-door nap wrapped very warmly in blankets at the noon recess In the South Manchester school there is an unusually good arrangement by which the scholars of the Domestic Offered by Alderman Cederholm. A Bridgeport paper says: Acting in conformity to the special law whereby municipal cities may establish electric light plants. Alderman Cederholm introduced a resolution last night calling for the city to take the preliminary steps to that end.

Steps to that end.

The law requires that the common council must by two-thirds vote approve the pian for two consecutive years, and that the Mayor must approve, before the matter can be referred to the people for popular vote.

The law also provides that the city may either establish a new plant, or after proper seems are taken may converse. after proper steps are taken, may pur chase any existing plant.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Miscellaneous matters

The Thermos Egg. Reference had been made to the un known genius in Tarrytown, N. Y. who is reviving the best traditions of the Pink Mink marsh and other semilegendary places where the heroic age of man made its last struggle against destroying modernism. When the correspondent from Pink Mink marsh was gathered to his fathers it marsh was gathered to his fathers it was thought that the quaint art of reasonably su-pernatural journalism had been lost. Evansville, Ind., and Winsted, Conn., have struggled feebly to produce leg-ends of the gods, but the flame was dying in the dip when Tarrytown gave hinge cover. Complete with the world a genius. Scientific Wrinkle Remover Easily Made (From Ladies' Favorite Magazine.)

A few dermatologists have long held the secret that a certain product, known to the drug trade as saxolite, had the property when used in solution, of instantly reducing wrinkles. Any one can readily make this same solution by dissolving an ounce of roundered strails in a but one. Morton, 50 years old, a motorman on the Pittsburgh-Newcastle and Butler Traction company, was arrested here tonight, charged with stealing $10,000 from a Wells-Pargo company package which was being taken from Pittsburgh to Butler on the car of which he was the motorman. The money was taken on the night of January 24. Morton came here recently to see his sick wife.
